“ When I was younger I remember being over Grandmas and I would go on searches to see if you were hiding anything, Brandon. I remember one time I had came across a beer bottle and went straight to Grandma about it! What she did with it is clueless to me.. Another time you had left the room so I took your cigarettes and thrown them in the trash. Of course I was a scardy cat because right when I heard your voice say "Gab where the heck did you put them." My feet went running to the bathroom trash..I remember the look on your when you showed us all your Detroit tigers tattoo, you were so happy! Now though in heaven there's no bad moments, as hes doing is smiling down on us as were living our lives. There's no struggles were he is. I like to think of it that way, I like to think of how hes an angle, how he will protect us till our time comes. When our time does come though he will be waiting there, right in front of us. I pray that he keeps us safe, and that grandma will never be alone in her house of hers, because Brandon's spirit will always be with you, and with us all. Even though it is tough right now aunt Cathy I am positive in time you, as well as all of us, can look at it as sort of a blessing. Because now there is no worrying, we know he is safe and forever will be.

“ No words can take away the pain of losing a child Cathy, but I pray that God gives you the strength to heal. I never got to meet Brandon but I do remember you talking about him at the class reunion last year...you were so proud of him. He will always be with you in spirit. May God bless him...you...and your family.

“ Love and miss you more than you'll ever know Brandon. You were a great cousin, great person to help my dad out around the house, just a good person overall.. I wish I would've been able to spend more time with you and my dad.. Atleast I have a lot of funny/good memories to remember you by.. Love you..

“ To the Maciag Family

We understand that this is truly a very difficult time for the entire family. Perhaps these few words will be a source of encouragement for everyone. These words does not originate from me but from the bible. Just look at the comfort that the God of the bible provides for those dealing with any hardship. They are recorded at Revelations 21:3-4. Look, the tent of God is with mankind, and he will reside with them, and they will be his people. And God himself will be with them. And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away. Our loving Creator has clearly shown us, that these conditions that causes so much pain and suffering will be done away with. These words also shows that soon, the earth will experience a worldwide resurrection. So may we in closing, encourage you to see with your own eyes all the wonderful promises that our Creator has in store for us. The true source of your comfort is right at your finger tips. Please read the bible.
