“ Gladys

*The eldest of our generation,
The Lord has called you home,
Now all we have are our memories to share:
I remember when you use to sit “Indian style,” I never could sit that way,
Or when we use to twist on the twist board hoping it would keep us skinny.
When Cool Uncle Henry took us to Cobo Hall’s Christmas Festival and we drank lots of hot cocoa.
As life progressed we did not see each other often, but Aunt Nita or Di would keep me updated on the Thompson Clan.
Yet, I was blessed to see you four times in the last two years
At the annual Christmas Eve gathering at Di’s Karis and Alicia wedding in July,
James 60th birthday celebration, the day after the wedding
And finally at Ashley and Tristan’s wedding
And yes there I was taking pictures and you saying, there’s Frances with her camera,
But now these pictures will become a part of my memories of you.
Thank you for all you meant to me.
Your cousin,
Frances*
