“ The phone was so silent this past Sunday. I looked forward to your call every week. Some times we talked about the kids, or how the Detroit and Arizona teams were doing, or tried to solve world problems. Occasionally we would stroll down memory lane. Most recently you reminded me of something that happened almost 40 years ago, when my homemade pie ended up in your dad's lap! I can still see you laughing so hard, I thought you would fall out of your chair.

I miss you, son and know you have joined your dad in heaven. I will join you both in a little while.

I love you more!
