“Preparing for a night out on the town was an adventure in itself. Fashionista that she is, we just HAD to go shopping. I would never, ever choose a strapless dress for myself; however, Julie chose one for me, required me to try it on, and insisted that I buy it with all of the accessories she had chosen to accompany the dress. Arriving to pick Julie up and still tugging at this strapless dress, Keith opened the door. He just stood in the doorway. His eyes said, “Wow!” without saying a word. The look on his face made me “feel” beautiful. Beautiful, in my world, has always been reserved for a select elite few, like my mother-in-law who set the standard and rocked style like no one else! Beautiful is something you are born into, certainly not something you achieve by hard work and a new strapless dress. All I know is every woman she should have her guy look at her the way Keith looked at me on that night. Unforgettable and absolutely priceless.

Thanks Julie!

*Miss you much!

“ I have so many good memories of my aunt Julia and uncle Eugene. When I was little she let me stay overnight on many occasions. It was so much fun. I remember her dressing me in the prettiest clothes and taking me and the boys ice skating. I couldn't ice skate but I enjoyed drinking hot cocoa with my beautiful auntie. I'll never forget her kindness.

We are praying for the family.
