“/sigh..... Today is 4months since Jesus called you home. I miss you with every breath I take! We may not have had a lot when we were growing up and time were tough, but one thing we always knew was that you loved us with your whole heart! You loved us then and now with everything you part of your being. You were so proud of us kids and your grandchildren and we will always hold onto that!

I love you with all my heart mommy.....always!

Gwen
